Regardless of your practice area, at some point in your legal career, you have likely been asked by a family member, friend, or client: What can I do about a used car, new car, or RV deal that went south, or sour rather—as a lemon? Another frequent question when contesting a bad vehicle financed purchase is: What can I do about the bank, financial institution, aggressive debt collector, or credit reporting agencies’ conduct, i.e., credit reporting threats and errors?

On October 19th, 2017, from 2 – 4 p.m., the wide range of state and federal statutes that may apply to these common situations will be explained. Over the course of this two-hour CLE (1 hour of which will cover ethics), National Association Consumer Advocate members, Attorney Susan Rotkis, and Attorney Christine Anderson Ferraris will detail the common issues that arise in vehicle purchase cases and the possible outcomes that can turn a nightmare into a win. In the context of real world vehicle purchase and finance examples, our presenters will cover these state and federal statutes: Arizona Consumer Fraud Act, Arizona New Car Lemon Law, Arizona U.C.C. Statutes, Arizona Common Law (fraud, conversion, etc.), Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, Fair Credit Reporting Act, Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, and Equal Credit Opportunity Act.
